

Intercare's Maggie Osburn Named Among San Diego's "Women Who Means Business!"

Maggie Osburn, Sr. Vice President, Business Development & Marketing of Intercare Insurance Solutions, one of the top three insurance brokerage and consulting firms in the region, was honored at the San Diego Business Journal's 16th Annual Women Who Mean Business Awards. The October 27th event recognized dynamic women business leaders and role models who were selected for their leadership, achievements and contributions to San Diego.

With more than 20 years of sales, training, and consulting experience in human resources across a variety of industries, Maggie brings Intercare Insurance Solutions and its clients a keen sense of business acumen and the ability to deliver. She offers clients the finely tuned ability to see and evaluate the big picture while distilling large quantities of information down to the most critical pieces, resulting in a strong recommendation that delivers cost savings and increased health benefit levels.

Maggie currently sits on the Board of the San Diego Chapter of the National Human Resources Association and The Petco Foundation. She is a member of the Society of Human Resource Managers and the San Diego Compensation and Benefits Association, is actively involved with CommNexus and San Diego Venture Group, and volunteers with Monarch Schools, American Heart Association, and Rancho Coastal Humane Society.
